Wednesday, November 4-p. m.

All departments of Wall Street business reflected in increased activity to-day the superb sound-money victory won by the honesty and common sense of the American people. The financial community and its multifold connections have been relieved of a mighty weight of doubt and uneasiness, and for the first time in many months, in fact since 1893, trade has been placed on a clear track where the future is not so dim that restrictions and narrow limits will have to bound every line of work.

The integrity of the Government has been preserved and the currency will not be ruined as proposed by Mr. Bryan. All interests in the business world feel that the prospects encourage expansion in the various departments believe that there will be a gradual building-up process in every business undertaking in the country. An increased demand for money this morning indicated the beginning of trade development, and especially, as this demand was so notably improved in the commercial paper market. Time money was lending and offering at 6 per cent for all periods, and mercantile offerings of the highest grade were quoted at 647 per cent. Contrary to the predictions of some, particularly in the London of industrial activity, and from now on they
